FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Sunday, July 22, 1866.
There was a partial subsidence last week of the excitences which marked the previous one on the Stock Exchange, owing in some degree to the moving of the Eric Georner? on Monday, after which the price declined from 75 to 64. The stock has since shown unexpected firmness, and on Saturday, it closed steady at about 65%. The general market was throughout firm, with a strong upward tendency, and, considering the excessive heat which prevailed till Thursday, the business transacted was surprisingly large. The disposition to speculate for a rise has become general, encouraged as is by the superabundant monetary facilities which are at the disposal of the Stock Exchange, added to which the large receipts of the leading railways tend to strengthen confidence in the value of their stocks and the probability of their reaching higher prices "on their of the Eastern, Western and Middle States two paid dividends of thirty-five per cent last year, one of thirty per cent, one of fifteen per cent, two of twelve per cent, thirteen of ten per cent, three of nine per cent, one of eight and a one of five per cent and two of three and a half per cent. Only seven omitted dividends, and one of these—Har-lem—has declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent. The roads referred to are the following, and the entire profits of their year's traffic amounted to $56,696,670. The earnings, expenses and dividends are strength to the railway share market, and apeculators, by operating for a rise, are merely anticipating a legit-mate advance in prices, based upon improved values. The majority of railway directors are, of course, corrupt enough to employ means to exaggerate this improvement by paying unduly large dividends, or to conceal it by withholding or reducing dividends, in order to promote their own speculative purposes, but the facts are so piain that he who runs may read, and every man can draw his own inferences.

the week and coupon five-twenties of the old issue rose under a domand for shipment to 101%, but subse-quently the receipt of lower quotations for them from Europe resulted in a decline to 106%, from which they recovered to 107 on Saturday morning. Later in the day the news of their advance in London on the 12th inst. to 67% a %, against 68% a 67 by the Africa, further list closed steady. The European war news by the City of Paris cause old to advance on Saturday afternoon to 150%, notwith being disposed to operate for a rise in gold in the event of a continuation of the war. In so doing, they look only to the more immediate effects of the struggle. They can see that it is not likely to stimulate the foreign demand for our breadstuffs for a considerable num-ber of months to come, partly because the stock abroad is at present large, while our own stock is light, Indian corn excepted. The war will ace before it will impart a stimulus to our export trade, and meanwhile our foreign creditors will be exacting of rempt remittances, and our entire indebtedness to Continental Europe, at least, will be gradually reduced to a very low point. The effect will be to keep gold and exchange firm, and cause all who have dealings with the Old World to be on their guard against contingencies which we have on former occasions pointed out, and the possible occurrence of which will continue to give an undertone of strength to the market for both.

The range of gold during the week was from 147% to 151%, and the closing price 150%. Loans were made on Saturday at ¾ a 1-32 per cent in favor of the lender of the coin, the majority of transactions being at the lower rate. The demand for customs duties aggregated $2,480,284.

Bankers' bills on England at sixty days were dull of sale at 109 a 1/2 at the close.

The need in which the country stands of a Nations bureau of Statistics is obvious to all familiar with the maccuracies of the agricultural reports and the errors of the Treasury Department in compiling the annual returns of our import and export trade. The estimates, $00. of successive Secretaries of the Treasury concern ing the public revenue and expenditure, have proved so different to the actual results as to show that their estimates were mere guess work and that they had no re-slable data to govern them in their preparation. The statistics of a nation are as useful and to a great extent an necessary to its statesmen as maps to the generals of an army in the field or charis to a navy. We require reliable statistics relating to our finances, commerce, in Sernal industry and social life, as a guide to the govern ment and to improvement in legislation, and for the gen-eral information of the people. The labors of such a bureau, if well conducted, would tend to equalize taxation, economize public securities, direct enterprise, and give us more definite knowledge of the resources of the country than we have hitherto possessed.

The past week witnessed the introduction of two new was reported by Mr. Morrill, in the House, and the other, a bill for the payment of the public debt," by Mr. Sherman, in the Senate. The Tariff bill in question affords a a fair specimen of the trickery to which the determined advocates of a bad cause will sometimes resort in order to achieve their object. The former bill failed because tt proposed to increase the rates of daty on a large number of commodities already too heavily taxed. The proposed increase was in that hon-cetly and explicitly stated, but in the present bill, which inally put forward to increase the duties on about three articles, including cigars, a clause is inserted which, if adopted, would have the effect of materially increasing the duty on every commodity specified in the em list of the existing tariff. This clause pro ad valorem list of the existing taria. This clause pro-rides that in determining the dutiable value of imported merchandise there shall be added to the cost or the actual wholesale price, at the time and place of exportation, the cost of transportation, shipment merchandise there shall be added to the cost of the netual wholesale price, at the time and place of exportation, the cost of transportation, shipment and trans-shipment, with all the expenses included from the place of growth, production or manufacture, to the vessel in which shipment is made to the United States; the value of the sack, box or covering of any tind in which such goods are contained, commission at the usual rates, but in no case less than 2½ per cent brokerage; export duty, and all other actual or usual charges for putting up, preparing and packing for transportation or shipment, and all charges of a general character incurred in the purchase of a general invoice shall be distributed pro rata among all parts of such invoice, and every part thereof charged with duties based on value shall be advanced according to its proportion.

We have repeated the clause thus far in detail in order to call unble stienties.

We have repeated the clause thus far in detail in order to call public attention to the real character of the bill, which is designed to smuggle through this sweeping measure. The people, who are consumers, and there-fore the ultimate payers of all taxes, have good reason to protest against this fresh outrage. They are already overburdened with taxation, and Congress, instead of imposing new burdens, should be employing itself in removing old ones.

For Mr. Sherman's Finance bill little can be said, be-For Mr. Sherman's Finance bill little can be said, because it is superfluous and uncalled for. It proposes to break faith with the holders of seven-thirty notes by compelling them to give notice of their intention to convert the same into bonds four months in advance of their maturity, thus curtailing by that length of time a privilege which they already enjoy. This, of itself, is sufficient to condemn it; and although it has passed the Senate, we trust it will be defeated in the House. It is not a funding bill in any sense, but it appropriates a hundred and eighty millions per annum to paying off the national debt. It also requires the Secretary of the Treasury to sell the excess of gold in the Treasury above fifty millions, which is unadvisable, especially pending the report of the committee appointed to inquire into the late Treasury gold scandal. The bill is a peck of rubbish, smacking of jobbery and silliness.

NEWS FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

OUR FORTRESS MONROE CORRESPONDENCE.

Improvements in Progress at the Portsmouth Navy Yard-Negro Riot at Drammondtown-The Resaca on her 'Vay Again-Powder for Experimental Uses. Form a Mossos, July 16, 1866.

THE POSTRUCTH NAVY YARD.

Marius at the ruins of Carthage looked on a scene of desolating ruins very little, if any, I imagine, surpassing that to be seen even to-day at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. Much has been done in the way of repairing the havec accomplished just before the federal evacuation, but much still remains to be done. The walls of more ing to the yard, and others that may be stationed there.

Another week will complete the repairs on the Agawan, when, it is reported, she will be ordered to Hilton Head, or to relieve the Lenape, stationed here, which also needs repairing. The old St. Lawrence, which was to have been fitted out as a storeship for the Brazilian squadron, is now used as headquarters of the marine quard. The New Hampshire, which is being used as a receiving ship, lies anchored in the stream. A party of men are vigorously working to raise the Delaware. Commodore Hitchcock, Chief Engineer Sewall, Naval Constructor Hanscom, inside laborers, outside contractors, and all, have their hands full of work, and the beneficial results to follow will soon show themselves.

NIGHO DISTURBANCE.

Intelligence of a disturbance by negroes at Drummondtown reached here yesterday morning. A company of troops under command of Lieutenant Ganesvoort were sent from the troops in the fort to quiet the disturbance. They went from here on the steaming Geneva, Captain John Young.

DEPARTURE OF THE RESACA.

The new gumboat Resaca, which was brought here on Friday last, through her machinery becoming disabled, left yesterday morning. She goes direct to Portemouth, N. H.

INVOICE OF POWDER.

An extensive invoice of gunpowder was landed here ing to the yard, and others that may be stationed there.

An extensive invoice of rowner.

An extensive invoice of runpowder was landed here yesterday by the steamer Niagara, Captain Couch, from New York. The powder is for experiments with the siege guns.

Winding Up of the Heated Term-Great Height of the Thermometer and Lowness of Wells and Cisterns-Water Sold by the Glass in Norfolk and Portsmouth-The French War Vessel Allecton and United States Naval Steamer Agawam. FORTERS MONROE, July 20, 1865.

ulminate in a thunder shower. As I write this, dark culminate in a thunder shower. As I write this, using masses of clouds are rolling up from the westward, the sound of muttering thunder greets the ear, and already there is felt a grateful coolness in the air. For five days there has been until to-day but little let up in the heat. In this time, during the middle hours of the day, the thermometer has ranged from 94 to 196 degrees in the shade. It has been a continuation of brazen warmth rather unusual in this latitude; but for all this I have not heard of a single case of sunstroke. People here and hereabouts—and by hereabouts I include the cities of Narfelli and Partenuith area. Norfolk and Portsmouth—are cautious, and do not go out much in the middle of the day, and when they do out much in the middle of the day, and when they do go out carry umbrellas, and hence this freedom from sunstroke. Connected with the weather comes the subject of the scarcity of water. There has been no such scarcity here for years. Not only fruits, vegetables and other crops have suffered from the want of rain for the past several weeks, but nearly all the wells and cisterns are drying up. The consequence is that in Norfolk and Portsmouth water is a merchantable article, and is retailed out by the gallon and even tumbler full. It is to be hoped the present promising shower will drive away the torrid heat, revive vegetation, add to the productiveness of peaches, tomatoes, watermelans and such huxuries of the season, fill wells and cisterns with water, and the hearis of all with abundant joy and gladness.

TRENCH BIGGOT-WAR.

The French war vessel arriving at Norfolk two days since proves to be not the Le Corse, as was supposed, but the Allecton, Captain I, Lanney, just arrived from St. Thomas. She expects to remain in Norfolk about a week longer, and then, after making short stops in New York and Halifax, sail direct for France. She has been absent from France four and a half years.

The United States naval steamer Agawam has completed her repairs at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. She now lies at anchor in the Elizabeth river, just this side of Norfolk, and expects soon to start for Hilton Head.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Out of the present discordant political elements there is evidently coming a power which may, if proper measarea at once taken to perfect an organization, become agreat party, whose influence will tend to shape the future destiny of the nation. This party will be composed of those true patriots who, from their convictions of right and their interest in the welfare of the country, approve and support the policy of President Johnson. Those who during the war were the firm supporters of the Union cause both at home and on the battle field; who did not sympathise with traitors or affiliate with copperheads, and who now detest alike the intrigues who do not sympathme with transposs or animas with copperheads, and who now dotest alike the intrinues of fanatical radicals and the plottings of traitors and copperheads. Statesmen who fear not to present their record to the people, and who desire the perpetuity and prespectly of the Union, will be the leaders of this party. Those truly great generals whose names will ever be bright on the pages of history will be members of this organization. The solders, who so notify defended and sustained the honer and integrity of the nation and enforced its laws when assailed by rebels, will raily under the banner of their leaders of the war. The people, the honest, sturdy yeomanny of the country, who decide the fate of parties and the destiny of the nation, will be found in the ranks. This is the party that should at once effect an organization—independent and free from the four taints which clink to the carcasses of the defunct democratic and republican parties. The necessity for such an organization is obvious. Thousands still act with the radical party because there is no conservative organization, and they refuse to form under the leadership of those who, when the nation was struggling for its existence, sympathized with traitors and placed every obsascle in their power in the way of the subjugation of the rebels. No true Union man who sustained the government in her hour of trial will now raily under the banner of the Woods, the Brookses, Vallandigham, Voorhees and other acknowledged leaders of the deasocratic party.

The conservative Union party has able leaders—those

the namer of the racknowledged leaders of the democratic party.

The conservative Union party has able leaders—those able and fearless statesmen, tandrew Johnson, Seward, Cowan, McCulloch and Randall, and those able generals who are the pride and adulation of our country, Grant, Sherman, Moade, Sherman and Farragut, will take the helm and lead us to victory and success.

Let us form an organization at once, and such a power will spring up as will make the extremes on either hand quake with fear of the political retribution that they no justily deserve.

Let us declare to the world that we favor a speedy restoration of the States late in rebellion to their rights as numbers of the Union and their entitled legal representation according to the provisions of the constitution; a retrenchment in the expenditures of the maion, instead of useless squandering of money for party purposes; an attention to the wants of the country instead of jobbing for corporations; equal taxation instead of overtaxing the producer and relieving from taxation the non-producer; protection for the producer as well as the manufacturer; equal rights to all sections; priviliges to the colored man so far as he is capable of enjoying them; opposition to indiscriminate universal suffrage; justice to traitors; and then fling the starry banner of the conservative Union party to the breeze, with Grant for our next President, and success awaits.

IRVING VAN OISC.
